-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-32 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-32, respectively, of U.S. Patent No. 6,717,509('509). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the following:

-- Claims 1,3,12,14,20,22,24, and 26 recite substantially the same subject matter as that of claims 1,3,12,14,20,22,24, and 26, respectively, of '509, except for:

- 1) receiving the first message from a remote message transmission device;
- 2) receiving the message from the device utilizing a computer; and
- 3) transmitting the second message back to the message transmission device utilizing a computer.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to transmit and receive messages from a device utilizing a computer since use of electronic messaging systems utilizing computers are well known, and therefore would have allowed greater flexibility, and saved time and resources for communicating messages within a system. Furthermore, utilization of a remote message transmission device would have allowed the system to be implemented in virtually any place as desired, thereby allowing expansion and greater use of the system.

-- Claim 7 recites substantially the same subject matter as that of claim 7 in the '509 patent, except for:

1) opening of the gate is included as opposed to a task to be performed.

It would have been obvious that the system of present invention would have been operable to perform one of many tasks including opening of a gate, and therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the advantage would have recognized the advantage of implementing opening of a gate, or any other task to be performed that would have been allowed by the system.

-- Claims 2,4-6,8-11,13,15-19,21,23,25, and 27-32 recite substantially the same subject matter as that recited in claims 2,4-6,8-11,13,15-19,21,23,25, and 27-32 of the '509 patent.
